Drown Out TeaBaggers - Rally For Jobs At Auto Show - Monday 11 January 2010

Dear Autoworkers, Retirees and our supporters,

It is my understanding that Nancy Pelosi (and other Congressional reps?) will be in Detroit Monday so I expect what happens in the streets outside Cobo might get more attention than usual.

The "teabaggers" are using the GM headquarters as a staging point and are then coming to Cobo (interesting in its own right, as they mention on their website having a visible banner inside the rencen).

We are in a good position to distinguish ourselves regarding the message we are trying to get across, The media may use their presence to drown out our message, so we need a lot of union folks!!

We can expose the teabaggers for the enemies of unionized workers that they are. Why else would they have been happy to see GM and Chrysler go under? Keep in mind they never complained when Alabama and Tennessee virtually subsidized the non-union (and foreign-owned) plants to operate in their states. Government intervention didn't bother them then.

Anybody who is free 10:30 am to 12 Noon should come. If you can carpool, that would even be better and you can use the parking structure on the Cobo Roof off Congress or the underground garage beneath Cobo.

In solidarity

Frank Hammer, Retired Int'l Rep, L. 909, GM Powertrain, Warren
